were functioning in which "trial of 102 miscreants is underway and this process will continue".

In response to a question, the DG ISPR said the suspects being tried in military courts had complete legal rights, including the right of appeal in the high courts and Supreme Court. He further stated that these suspects would be penalised according to their crime, adding that the "Pakistan Army has resolved time and again that the Constitution is sacred for us and a reflection of nation's wishes".

"All planners and facilitators linked to this incident will be punished according to the Constitution and law of Pakistan, no matter what political party or institution or social status they may be associated with. And those creating hurdles in the way of making this process reach its logical conclusion will be dealt with strictly with the full support of the people of Pakistan," the DG ISPR asserted.

Questioned about the identification of those actually responsible behind the events of May 9 and their punishment, the DG ISPR said that the planners and masterminds of the incident were those who were involved in "misleading the people for the past several months against the army and its leadership". "The incident of May did not happen in isolation. The objective behind it was to send people attack military installations and then draw immediate reaction from the army," DG Sharif said. Even women, he continued, were used as a "shield" to "achieve these nefarious political designs".

"No one expected that a political party would attack its own army like this. But when it did happen, the army rendered this conspiracy unsuccessful. Had it given a response they would have been successful." The DG ISPR further said that "it is clear as day" that the masterminds of the May 9 riots were those who tried to persuade the people to act against the army, hurl petrol bombs and set their graves on fire. "It is most important to expose the planners and facilitators of the events and bring them to justice if the nation was to move on from May 9," he stressed, adding that otherwise "any other political party will repeat the actions".
