- International Accounting Standard (IAS) 34, Interim Financial Reporting, issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB), as notified under the Companies Act, 2017;

- Islamic Financial Accounting Standards (IFAS) issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Pakistan as are notified under the Companies Act, 2017;

2.2 Basis of presentation and measurement

These condensed interim financial statements do not include all the information and disclosures required for annual financial statements and, therefore, should be read in conjunction with the Company's audited annual financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2025.

These condensed interim financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention, except as otherwise stated. These condensed interim financial statements are presented in Pakistani Rupees (Rupees), which is the functional currency of the Company.

The comparative statement of financial position presented in these condensed interim financial statements has been extracted from the audited financial statements of the Company for the year ended December 31, 2025, whereas the comparative statement of profit or loss, statement of comprehensive income, statement of changes in equity, and statement of cash flows have been extracted from the unaudited condensed interim financial statements for the nine-month period ended September 30, 2025.

Islamic financing include purchase of assets by the Company from its customers and immediate resale to them at appropriate profit in price on deferred payment basis. The purchases and sales arrising under these arrangements are not reflected in the financial statements as such but are restricted to the amount of facility actually utilised and the appropriate portion of profit thereon.

2.3 Standards, amendments and interpretations to approved accounting standards that are effective in current period

The SECP, through S.R.O. 742(I)/2025 dated April 16, 2025, has made IFRS 7, 'Financial Instruments: Disclosures' applicable to Non-Banking Finance Companies engaged in investment finance services, discounting services and housing finance services, for annual reporting periods beginning on or after January 01, 2026. As IFRS 7 is a disclosure standard, its first-time adoption has not affected the recognition or measurement of the Company's financial assets and financial liabilities. There has been no significant change in the nature and extent of risks arising from financial instruments, or in the Company's objectives, policies and processes for managing those risks, since December 31, 2025. Except as described above, the Company expects that amendments to existing accounting and reporting standards are not expected to have a material effect on the Company's financial statements upon initial application.

2.4 Standards, amendments and interpretations to approved accounting standards that are not yet effective

There are certain standards, amendments to the accounting standards and interpretations that are mandatory for the Company's accounting periods beginning on or after January 01, 2027, but are considered not to be relevant or to have any significant effect on the Company's operations and are, therefore, not detailed in these condensed interim financial statements apart from those which have been disclosed in the annual audited financial statements of the Company for the year ended December 31, 2025.

3 Use of estimates and judgments

The preparation of these condensed interim financial statements in conformity with accounting and reporting standards requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and income and expenses. Estimates, assumptions and judgements are continually evaluated and are based on historical experience and other factors, including reasonable expectations of future events. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised prospectively commencing from the period of revision.

The significant judgements, estimates and assumptions made by the management in applying the Company's accounting policies and the factors used in making those estimates and associated assumptions were the same as those that were applied to the annual audited financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2025.

4.2 The financial risk management objectives and policies are consistent with those disclosed in the Company's annual financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2025.

4.3 Income tax expense is recognised in each interim period based on the best estimate of the weighted average annual income tax rate expected for the full financial year. Amounts recognised for income tax expense in one interim period may be adjusted in a subsequent interim period of the same financial year if the estimate of the annual income tax rate changes.

23 Fair value measurement of financial instruments

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date.

Underlying the definition of fair value is the presumption that the Company is a going concern and there is no intention or requirement to curtail materially the scale of its operations or to undertake a transaction on adverse terms.

A financial instrument is regarded as quoted in an active market if quoted prices are readily and regularly available from an exchange dealer, broker, industry group, pricing service, or regulatory agency, and those prices represent actual and regularly occurring market transactions on an arm's length basis.

IFRS 13 'Fair Value Measurement' requires the company to classify fair value measurements and fair value hierarchy that reflects the significance of the inputs used in making the measurements of fair value hierarchy has the following levels:

- Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1)
- Inputs other than quoted prices included within level 1 that are observable for the asset either directly (that is, derived from prices) (Level 2)
- Inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (that is, unadjusted) inputs (Level 3).

Transfer between levels of the fair value hierarchy are recognized at the end of the reporting period during which the changes have occurred.

As at September 30, 2026, none of the assets and liabilities are carried at fair value. In the opinion of the management, the fair values of all financial assets and financial liabilities are not significantly different from their carrying amounts, as these are either short term in nature or, in the case of long-term financing and long-term borrowings, are subject to frequent repricing.
